Our use and sharing of your information

We may collect and use relevant information about you, your transactions, your use of our products and services, and your relationships with us:

- to process applications you make;
- to maintain your credit union account with us; and for the following specific reasons:
 - a) tax liability
 - b) regulatory and statutory requirements
 - c) compliance with our anti-money laundering and combatting terrorist financing obligations;
 - d) credit assessment and credit reference agencies;
 - e) customer service;
 - f) marketing and market research;
 - g) product analysis;
 - h) insurance;
 - i) audit;
 - j) third parties;
 - k) Irish League of Credit Unions Savings Protection Scheme; and
 - l) administrative purposes.

a) Tax liability

We may share information and documentation with domestic and foreign tax authorities to establish your liability to tax in any jurisdiction. We shall not be responsible to you or any third party for any loss incurred as a result of us taking such actions.

b) Regulatory and statutory requirements

To meet our duties to regulators (the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) and the Prudential Regulation Authority ((PRA), we may allow authorised people to see our records (which may include information about you) for reporting, compliance and auditing purposes. For the same reason, we will also hold the information about you when you are no longer a member.

We may also share information with certain statutory Bodies such as Department for the Economy (DfE), the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) and Financial Ombudsman Service (FOS) if required by law.

c) Compliance with our anti- money laundering and combatting terrorist financing obligations

The information provided by you in this membership application will be used for compliance with our customer due diligence and screening obligations under anti-money laundering and combatting terrorist financing obligations under the Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Transfer of Funds (Information on the Payer) Regulations 2017 and associated legislation.

d) Credit Assessment and Credit Reference Agencies

We may share information with credit reference agencies to verify your identity and suitability for an account, using information from the Electoral Register and other public sources.

When you apply to us to open a credit union account, we may check the following records about you

- (a) our own records;
- (b) records at credit reference agencies. When credit reference agencies receive a search from us they will place a search footprint on your credit file that may be seen by other lenders. They supply to us both public (including the electoral register) and shared credit and fraud prevention information; and
- (c) Those at fraud prevention agencies.

The searches may assess this application for the purpose of verifying identities to prevent and detect crime and money laundering. We may also make periodic searches at credit reference agencies and fraud prevention agencies to manage your account with us a part of our ongoing customer due diligence.

If you are making a joint application or tell us that you have a spouse or financial associate, we will link your records together so you must be sure that you have their agreement to disclose information about them. Credit reference agencies also link your records together and these links will remain on your and their files until such time as you or your partner successfully files for a disassociation with the credit reference agencies to break that link.

If you give us false or inaccurate information and we suspect or identify fraud we will record this and may also pass this information to fraud prevention agencies and other organisations involved in crime and fraud prevention.
